

Hi everyone:

This is our third and hopefully final update.

1. Reminder there will be no lunch break on Saturday. Your athletes should eat lunch before they leave for the first race.
2. Much information has been posted to techscore, including the order in which we will ask people to judge.
3. B division will start in 420s on Saturday. A division will start in FJs. The 420s are on the dollies and the FJs are on the racks, so B division will start racing first.
4. We will not attempt a division switch on Saturday, so B will be in 420s all day and A will be FJs. B division will start in the FJs, which will be down on the dollies, and will sail the first race each day.
5. In case you missed it, B division will sail the first race of the day each day. This is unusual.
6. Bern Noack will be the NEISA rep.

Thanks,
Justin
